VOL. XXIV, NO. 295 | GAINESVILLE, FLORIDA, SUNDAY, JANUARY 19, 1908 | TEN CENTS A WEEK

EXTRA CURRENCY IS

Provided For by the Aldrich Financial Bill.

SUM OF ABOUT $500,000,000

Amendment by Senator Bailey—Democrats Join With Republicans in Advocacy of Most of the Features of This Bill, It Is Said.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—After two sessions of the senate committee on finance the members of the committee were in possession of fair ideas of what shape the Aldrich financial bill will be in when it is reported next week. There will be no more meetings of the committee until Monday, when the various amendments which have been gradually evolved through the general discussion of the bill during this week, will be incorporated in the measure.

It is stated to be practically certain that the limit of extra currency which the bill provides for will be raised from $250,000,000 to $500,000,000.

Most of the members of the committee believe that this figure is not too high for a time of emergency when a heavy issue of currency notes is demanded on security of the prescribed sort, and under the described tax. The tax on the emergency issues will not, it is believed, be placed higher than 6 per cent, which the bill now provides.

An amendment offered by Senator Bailey reducing the required population of a county or municipality whose bonds are to figure in a currency issue from 20,000 to 10,000, is expected to receive the support of a majority of the committee and according to reliable report will be adopted. This will permit smaller towns of just as great an age and of commensurate prosperity with the larger towns to participate in the benefits of the measure.

A democratic member of the committee asserts that the minority as a whole is not in favor of a bill providing a currency based on security of government bonds, but being unable to prevent a favorable report on such a measure, they are making it their duty so far as it lies in their power to make it as effective a measure of that nature as possible, and they are, therefore, joining with republicans in advocacy of most of the features of the Aldrich bill.

KILLED FATHER WITH AX.

Deplorable Family Tragedy Occurs at Davidson, N. C.

Davidson, N. C., Jan. 18—A brutal murder was committed here Thursday morning, when Ekekiel Gregory, a farmer, over sixty years of age, was killed with an ax by his son. The murderer fled, accompanied by his wife, but both were arrested near Mooresville, N. C.

The substance of the story gathered from the daughter of the dead man was that following an altercation in regard to arising, the son went from the house into the yard and defied his father to cross a line drawn with the blade of an ax in the earth. The father crossed the line, a blow was heard, and the daughter rushed out to find her father prostrated.

The injured man did not recover consciousness. Gregory is in jail in Charlotte.

Dogs as Policemen.

New York, Jan. 18.—The three Belgian hounds and the American Airdale, which have been for some time undergoing training in the duties of policemen, have about finished their education and within a few days they will be put on post in the outlying districts. They will be the first dogs ever used by the New York police.

Wants Biennial Sessions.

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 18.—W. F. Slater, representative from Bryan county, and candidate for senator from the first district, will introduce a bill at the coming session of the legislature providing for biennial instead of annual sessions.

WILL'S ODD PROVISIONS.

Queer Testament Filed for Probate in the City of Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—"There shall be inscribed upon by tomb in German and in large golden letters this epitaph:

"Here lies the sleeping beauty.'"

This was one of the odd provisions in the will of Mrs. Alvin Schaeffer which was filed for probate Thursday. She was 46 years old and died two weeks ago. She was the divorced wife of Henry Schaeffer, a well known Chicago hotel man. Mrs. Schaeffer disposes of $30,000, and practically all of it, except small annuities to brothers and nephews living in Madgburg, Germany, is to be devoted to the purpose of giving festivals for the German children in this city.

The will provides that a "weeping willow tree and a tombstone, the two not to exceed $500 in cost," be placed above her grave.

It is also requested that Mrs. Schaeffer's poodle dog, "Lottie," be given to "one of the richest families in the city," and that $2 a week be set aside for the dog's maintenance.

SOUTHERN INDUSTRY.

Investments To Be Made in Several New Manufactories.

Baltimore, Jan. 18.—Among other new industries to be established in the Southern states soon, the Manufacturers' Record this week notes the following:

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 17.—Parties at Dadeville, Ala., contemplate the establishment of a small plant for carding and spinning cotton into yarn and knitting the yarn into hose, while an Atlanta knitting mill is planning to establish another plant in Georgia at a cost of about $50,000.

Mills at Wake Forest, N. C., have completed an addition three stories high which is being equipped with 5,000 spindles and 186 looms at a cost of about $100,000.

Mills at Birmingham, Ala., have completed the installation of new weaving machinery and mills at the city of Greenville, S. C., have also added to their equipment.

HUGHES NOT INDORSED.

New York Republicans, After Bitter Fight, Fail to Act.

New York, Jan. 18.—After one of the bitterest fights in its existence, the New York county republican committee adjourned Thursday night without having indorsed any candidate for the presidential nomination. An attempt to take up the tabled resolution indorsing Governor Hughes failed and the matter was adjourned for one month.

A vote on the straight question of indorsing Governor Hughes or any other presidential candidate was never reached. There was no doubt of the veiled issue, however, and the outspoken supporters of the governor lined up squarely against those who are either friendly to the candidacy of Secretary Taft or opposed to any indorsement by the committee at this time.

DIED FROM EXPOSURE.

Man, 92 Years of Age, Wedged in a Wooden Box, Freezes.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Orrville, O., says:

His limbs frozen in a night spent wadged in a wooden box into which he had fallen head first, at his home here, James Taggart, 93 years of age, uncle of Major Elmore Taggart, of army divorce case fame, died of exposure Thursday.

Mr. Taggart and Horace Greeley were close friends, the Ohioan visiting the New York editor frequently. Taggart had been wealthy, but signing of bail bonds for a score of men who fled, wrecked his fortune.

Vardaman To Publish Paper.

Jackson, Miss., Jan. 18.—Governor James K. Vardaman has made a definite announcement concerning his reembarkation upon the sea of journalism when his term as governor of Mississippi expires. Within the next ten days, the governor declares, the first copy of his paper will appear. It will be printed at Jackson and will start as a weekly pending the working out of plans for a daily.

BUFFETED BY STORM

Remarkable Escape From Death of British Ship's Crew.

STORY OF THEIR SUFFERING

Caught in Fierce Snow Storm, Vessel Was Wrecked and Crew Thrown Upon Bleak Coast, Where They Faced Wintry Storm for Hours.

St. Johns, N. B., Jan. 18.—The particulars of the remarkable escape from death, and the story of the privations endured by the crew of the British steamer Tollesby, which was wrecked ten miles west of Cape Race on Monday, were learned from men who arrived here Friday.

The Tollesby was bound from Galveston, Tex., for Havre, France, with cotton. During a snowstorm Monday the officers lost their bearings and the ship struck on a submerged ledge at the foot of a steep cliff.

A crew of twenty-four men stayed on the vessel four hours. Just before darkness fell, the storm suddenly increased to a heavy gale. Immense waves swept the decks and the pounding of the seas finally broke the back of the steamer. Three boats were put over the side, but all were smashed to pieces.

The crew then constructed rafts from furniture and landed on a narrow beach at the foot of a high and steep cliff, reaching for miles in either direction.

The men were little better off than when on board their vessel for the tide rose and threatened to sweep them from their position.

One daring seaman, with a rope about his waist, succeeded in scaling the cliff. He was able to haul up three others of the crew.

The rising tide cut off all chances of the other men reaching the rope and the twenty men were forced to stand on a single hillock of sand for nineteen hours. Most of them suffered from frost bites.

EYE ON U. S. SENATORSHIP.

It Is Said Governor Smith Will Announce Candidacy Soon.

Atlanta, Jan. 18.—It seems to be a generally accepted fact around the capitol that Governor Smith is going to announce his candidacy within the next two or three weeks for the U. S. senate.

The governor's prospective candidacy for the senatorship is, in fact, the one absorbing topic around which capitol gossip centers.

Almost every day there is some new report of his having stated his intention to some friend, and the report is being repeated with more and more positiveness.

With some belief has come to be almost a certainty, and there are not a few political prophets whose reputations in that direction will be badly shattered should the governor fail to make them good.

BOOM FOR HAYWOOD.

Boise, Idaho, Man May Be Socialist Candidate for Presidency.

New York, Jan. 18.—William D. Haywood, who was recently acquitted on a charge of murder at Boise, Idaho, is in New York, having arrived Thursday night.

He was received with enthusiasm by the New York socialists. He will confer with Eugene V. Debbs, presumably regarding the move to make Haywood the socialist candidate for the presidency at the next election.

Debbs was the socialist candidate at the last presidential election.

Fire in Moving Picture Theater.

St. Catherines, Ont., Jan. 18.—Fire following the explosion of a moving picture machine occurred Wednesday in the Hippodrome, a small theater here. The audience numbered about fifty, principally women and children, several of whom were painfully hurt by being trampled upon in a mad rush for the street. Leone McDermott, aged 15, was fatally burned. The fire damage is small.

ATTACKED BY BURGLARS.

Watchman in New York Assaulted and Probably Fatally Injured.

New York, Jan. 18.—Burglars attempted late Thursday night to enter the room in the American Museum of Natural History where the famous Kunz Morgan collection of precious stones and gems is kept and John Kenny, a watchman, was probably fatally injured before they were driven away.

At a late hour Kenny was making his rounds, and opened a door leading from the main corridor into the stuffed bird room from which double iron doors lead into the gem rooms. As he opened this outer door, he was suddenly struck on the head, presumably with a hammer, and half stunned. He quickly grappled with his assailant but the latter drew a pistol and fired a bullet which passed through Kenny's hand. Then striking Kenny a blow in the face that knocked him down, the burglar escaped.

As soon as Kenny recovered sufficiently he summoned the police.

MAY ENFORCE "BLUE LAWS."

Tight Lid Likely To Be Clapped on Chattanooga, Tenn.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 18.—This city is destined to come under the "blue laws." City Attorney Chamlee has handed down an opinion in the matter of the moving picture shows operating on Sunday, which may result in closing every drug store, soda fountain, cigar stand, newsstand, shoe polishing parlor and every other concern of like character in the city on the first day of the week.

According to T. S. Wilcox, chairman of the board of public safety, it only remains for some one to file complaint and the police will inaugurate a series of "blue Sundays."

There will be no amusement places open next Sunday.

MURDERED AND ROBBED.

No Clew to the Slayer of Dyer County, Tenn., Farmer.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 18.—John Davis, a prominent farmer, was found dead in a woods lot near his home in Dyer county, Tennessee, Thursday.

The body was buried at a depth of 6 inches and the base of the skull was crushed in as if struck with an ax. Davis had been missing since last Friday night and when he left home he had $155 with him. When found the money was missing, and it is supposed he was killed for the purpose of robbery.

No clew has been discovered as to the perpetrator of the crime.

To Celebrate Lee's Birthday.

Atlanta, Jan. 18.—Preliminary arrangements have been made for the celebration of the 101st anniversary of the birthday of General Robert E. Lee by Atlanta camp No. 159, United Confederate Veterans. The celebration will take place in the hall of the house of representatives on Monday evening, Jan. 20, and Hon. James L. Anderson, of Atlanta, has been designated by the camp as the orator of the occasion. The musical part of the program and other features are in charge of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

Given Verdict for $12,000.

Fayetteville, Ga., Jan. 18—The city court of Fayetteville for the past two days has been engaged in the trial of the case of Mrs. Mary Decker, administratrix, against the Southern Railway company. Mrs. Decker sued the railway company for the killing of her husband, Nathan Decker, an engineer in the company's employment, in April of last year. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $12,000.

Firebug Tries to Burn Church.

Boston, Jan. 18.—That the fire on Thursday morning which nearly destroyed the Second Congregational church in Dorchester, with a loss of $50,000, was the work of an incendiary was the opinion of the authorities. A small hole was discovered in the side of the building where the fire broke out and there was combustible material which appeared to have been used in the work.

$250,000 LOSS BY FIRE

Masonic Temple at Baltimore Is Practically Destroyed.

NOTED CHURCH ENDANGERED

Fire Was Most Spectacular One—Daring Work of Those Who Fought the Flames—Second Time Masonic Temple Has Been Prey of Flames.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 18.—The Masonic Temple, on North Charles street, between Lexington and Sedalgo streets, was gutted by fire early Friday. All of the structure above the second story is a hollow shell.

For a time old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, adjoining, was threatened.

The building, which is owned by the Grand lodge of Masons, is insured for $300,000 and the contents for $35,000. The first floor of the structure was occupied by several stores, all of which were damaged by water.

The upper floors were devoted to lodge rooms, all of which were elaborately and sumptuously furnished. There were also in the building many fine oil paintings.

The loss on building and Masonic equipment was placed at $250,000.

As the building burned as freely as though there was not a drop of water being used, the scene was most spectacular. The flames leaped in the air to the height of several hundred feet, illuminating the surrounding neighborhood as brightly as day, while the buildings for several squares around were lighted by the reflection.

One of the incidents of the fire was the daring of a squad of ladder men who, despite great sheets of flame and clouds of smoke pouring from the windows, crawled with a hose to the cornice on the main roof and remained there for nearly half an hour.

The intensity of the heat caused great quantities of tiles to fall but the firemen remained at their posts despite the missiles and directed a stream of water into the interior.

Inch by inch they fought the fire back until the water tower was placed in position. Then they were ordered down.

The Masonic temple is a four story edifice with a width of about 100 feet on Charles street, and a depth of about 200 feet to an alley in the rear of old St. Paul's church. The marble front was scarred and chipped by the flames, but the four walls, owing to their thickness, stand practically intact.

This is the second time that the Masonic temple has been a prey to flames, it having been destroyed on Christmas day, 1890. At that time, however, it was used largely as a theater (old Forepaugh's) and the Masons occupied but a comparatively little portion of it.

FINDS LONG LOST BROTHER.

For 56 Years Nothing Had Been Heard of Thomas Bates by Relatives.

Springfield, Mass., Jan. 18—Thomas Bates when 17 years old, ran away from his home here in 1852. He was seized with the California gold fever and it was supposed that he had gone to that state, but although his family tried for years to locate him, no trace of him was found.

A few years ago his brother, Charles, who resides at Webster, saw the name of Thomas Bates in a roster of the California soldiers in the civil war. After much correspondence, he traced his brother to the state soldiers' home in Tennessee. He wrote there, and a day or so ago, received a reply from the brother he had heard nothing of in fifty-six years.

Funeral of Edward Strechel.

Bangkok, Siam, Jan. 18.—The funeral of Edward Henry Strechel, general adviser of the government of Siam, and at one time Bemis professor of international law at Harvard, who died Jan. 15, occurred here Friday and was attended by the king, the princes, members of the diplomatic corps and a large assortion of the public.

U. C. V. EXERCISES TO BE HELD MONDAY

Interesting Ceremonies Expected to Transpire at Court House.

DR. ANDREW SLEDD TO SPEAK

He Will Make the Memorial Address. Veterans of the Gray Are Expected from Every Section of the County. Invitation Extended Public.

It is expected that Gainesville will be visited by many old veterans Monday from every section of the county, as this is the day set apart for the commemoration of the birthday of the lamented Confederate General and hero, Robert E. Lee.

Once each year these gray-haired old veterans, who nearly half a century ago took up arms in defense of the cause they believed was right, take great pleasure in coming together to commemorate the memory of their departed leader, and the program and scenes are usually very impressive. These heroes of the lost cause are gradually diminishing as the years go by, but there are still quite a number scattered throughout the country, and they make a good show as an assemblage.

The exercises will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning at the court house, and Dr. Andrew Sledd, president of the University of Florida and one of the most eloquent and widely read speakers in the South, will deliver the memorial address. All Daughters of the Confederacy, Confederate Veterans, G. A. R., and the public generally are extended a cordial invitation.

Hon. W. M. Blitch of Santa Fe is commander of Stonewall Camp, under the direction of whom the exercises will be held.

The annual convention of the State Federation of Labor, which will be held in this city, will be called to order in the opera house at 12 o'clock noon Tuesday by State President Max Moritz of Tampa, which will be followed by prayer by Rev. Thos. P. Hay of the First Presbyterian church.

After this prayer Mayor W. R. Thomas is scheduled for an address of welcome in behalf of the city, which will be responded to by the president, Max P. Moritz.

Hon. H. H. McCreary has been invited to address the Federation, the subject to be of his own selection.

After the addresses appointment of committees will be made, and an adjournment taken until Wednesday.

A large crowd, representing every branch of labor from every section of the State, is expected at this convention.

At the Big Tent Theater.

Monday night the Jeavons Big Dramatic Company presents the beautiful comedy society play, in five acts, "The Little Dutchess." The play abounds in thrilling scenes and startling climaxes, and presents some effects never before seen on the stage. The story is deeply interesting and has a strong heart interest; the dialogue is clever and bright and the plot teaches a plain moral lesson to the waywardly inclined. All through the various scenes of the entertainment new delights will be unfolded. The costumes are magnificent, beyond compare; the scenery and settings, the lights and properties, and every detail of the production bear brilliant witness to the unstinted lavishness of expenditure which make the production by far the most gorgeously beautiful spectacle ever presented in the city.

The amusement-loving people should avail themselves of this one grand opportunity of witnessing the largest, best and most complete popular-priced tented amusement institution on the road today.

No long waits—a continuous performance. More features, more real novelties, and more sensational features than ever seen with a tented enterprise before at popular prices.

Theater heated by furnace and lighted by electricity.

Some Fine Hogs.

J. M. Spivey has returned from Ft. White, where he has been on a pleasant visit to his daughter, Mrs. J. R. Pope. Mr. Spivey states that his son-in-law has just finished killing hogs. Several were slaughtered, the largest of which weighed over 300 pounds dressed. This is the kind of meat the farmers should become accustomed to raise, as it is much sweeter and more economical and satisfactory in the end.

OBITUARY.

The subject of this sketch, Mrs. Katie Britt, was born in Marion county, Fla., Sept. 6, 1868, and departed this life in her pleasant country home in the same county Aug. 17, 1907. She was the daughter of Mr. James C. and Mrs. Mary J. Zetrouer.

She was happily married to Mr. T. A. Britt about seven years ago, which union was blessed with three sweet little children, two boys and one girl.

Sister Britt gave her heart and life to God and united with the M. E. Church, South, at Shiloh in 1888, under the ministry of Rev. W. H. Steinmeyer, and was received into the church at Wacahoota by Rev. T. J. Phillips the same year. Sister Britt was not a very demonstrative Christian, but she quietly and meekly served God in her home as a true and noble wife and loving mother.

Those who knew her best bear testimony that she was a genuine Christian.

Besides father, mother, husband and children, she leaves two bothers, two sisters, and many other relatives and friends to mourn their loss; but they do not mourn as those who have no hope, because they fully expect to meet her in "Our Father's house above."

Her loved ones feel that their loss is very great, but it is her eternal gain.

Her precious body was tenderly laid to rest in Wacahoota cemetery amid the sobs of heartbroken loved ones Aug. 18, 1907. The writer conducted the funeral services. Her pastor,

T. L. Z. BARR.

Accident to Lad.

Master Chas. Holstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Holstein, was the victim of a painful, though not necessarily serious, accident Saturday morning.

The lad, while playing in the street in front of the home of his parents on West Liberty street, stepped on a broken bottle, with the result that he sustained a serious gash in the instep of one of his feet.

Dr. Hodges was summoned and dressed the wound, and at last accounts the little fellow was getting along as well as could be expected, though he will be incapacitated for several days.

Mrs. Annie Turnbull, son, Kennett, and daughter, Miss Bessie, have arrived in the city from Chicago, and will remain here for some time as guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Dempsey, East Seminary street.

All members of Kirby Smith Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, are requested to meet at the bandstand Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock, for the purpose of attending in a body the exercises of the Confederate Veterans at the court house, which will begin at 10 o'clock.

Madam Coffield wishes to thank the ladies of Gainesville for the cordial reception they have extended to her during her brief visit to this city. Those who desire more of her celebrated toilet preparations can secure them from Mrs. Margaret Jackman, 408 East Main street, who is her local representative.

G. M. D. Bowers, J. B. Bowers of Henning, Tenn., R. Dallas Bowers, sons of the former, and J. B. Wilson have returned from Bartow, where they have been looking over the orange grove property of the first named gentleman. They found the grove in fine condition and report Bartow and Polk county in a prosperous condition.

Had a Big Time.

The smaller children of the First Methodist church indulged in a good time at the parsonage Saturday afternoon. Their organization is known as the Children's Brigade, and it is their custom to have these entertainments at regular intervals.

The entertainment Saturday afternoon was attended by about fifty of the little folks, and a most enjoyable program, musical and literary, was rendered.

Delicious refreshments of ambrosia and cake were served during the afternoon, and at a late hour the little folks returned to their homes in a happy frame of mind.

Gen. R. E. Lee's Portrait.

The beautiful picture on exhibition at Miss Norton's store Friday and Saturday was placed Saturday afternoon in the auditorium of the public school building by a committee of the J. J. Finley Chapter, U. D. C.

This picture was presented to the public school by the J. J. Finley Chapter, U. D. C., in commemoration of the birth, stainless life and brilliant career of our well-beloved General, Robert Edward Lee. The chapter hopes in the near future to place in the public school building pictures of other Confederate generals.

Currency based on the nation's assets, as recommended by Professor Seligman, may be best, but most of us are willing to accept currency on the basis of what it will buy at the grocer's.

The Presbyterians would not take the Roebling "anti-temperance" bequest in North Carolina, but the Episcopalians accepted with thanks. And yet their "confessions of faith" are not wide apart.

The borough of Manhattan, the principal part of Greater New York, is the most densely populated territory in the world, being 100,492 per square mile. Not even the most thickly populated section of London equals it.

A Newark woman has left her husband and is suing him for a divorce, because, as she alleges, he made her sleep on an ironing board—wonder if he published the stereotyped announcement, "My wife ——— having left my bed and board," and so forth?

"Reader of The Sun and Believer in Fair-Play—Even in Politics," should have signed his name to the note he sent to the editor of The Sun under date of January 18th. It is hardly "fair-play" to hide behind a nom de plume—even in politics, especially when the typewriter is used to hide even so much as the identity of your handwriting. Better practice what you preach, old fellow—or young fellow—whichever you may be.

Congressman Gaines of Tennessee wants a law to prevent lobbying. The United States Supreme Court has drawn a broad line of demarcation separating the professional services of men who represent claimants or others desiring legislation, these professional services being confined to drafting petitions, attending the taking of testimony and submitting oral or written articles to a committee or other popular public authority, and the services of lobbyists who carry on a process of secret personal solicitation. The law on this subject would have to make this destinction. Lobbying is bad and usually corrupt, but public presentation of argument is proper and beneficial.

Hon. W. J. Bryan, the recently appointed United States Senator, writes an open letter to Frank Harris, editor of The Ocala Banner, in which he "roasts" the latter for the criticism of him on account of an interview in which the Senator was credited with saying: "I am going to make the people of my State the best Senator our State ever had." Also, "Some day I shall be the oldest Senator." Senator Bryan denies having made any such remarks to anyone, and from what we had known of him in the past we were loath to credit him with such little political sagacity as to have done so. Personally we have always liked Mr. Bryan, but we are surprised at the temper of his reply to Editor Harris. He was evidently "hot under the collar" when he penned the article, and a man occupying the exalted position he does should not become so excited over such a small matter as newspaper criticism.

DECISIVE ACTION NEEDED.

That improvement of the waterways and harbors of the country is demanded by every possible and reasonable necesity of trade and commerce is no longer debatable. The question is now in a stage where the railway interests frankly confess their inability to keep pace with the tremendous volume of freight offerings, and whether that confession was made willingly or grudgingly is not to the present purpose. But it may not be amiss to suggest that the eyes of the management of the railways have been opened to the fact that unless inland waterways are improved to navigable stages sufficient to bear their just proportion of freight offerings, the manufacturing, commercial and agricultural interests of the country would be injured to a degree that would render practically valueless the investments in railway enterprises.

It is a fact which producer and consumer have appreciated for years, to their great injury. But public sentiment has, at last, been aroused to the absolute necessity for waterway improvement as the one practical solution of the problem of transportation, and means of transportation constitute the very foundation and capstone of prosperous conditions.

That public sentiment has been aroused is a fact for congratulation. But it would be folly to allow the fact to breed overconfidence or to call a halt, even for a day, in preparing to harvest the results of the demand for waterway improvement. Great causes require constant, persistent and impelling action. It is important to arouse public sentiment. It is more important to quicken that sentiment into action by using on Congress the duty it owes to public no less than to private interests to inaugurate, during the present session, a policy of annual appropriations, adequate in amount and available as the work of inland waterway and harbor improvement progresses, to the end that all sections and all interests may be given adequate channels for transportation—at once cheap, safe and continuous.

The National Rivers and Harbors Congress has done its part fully. The work of urging on Representatives and Senators the duty of completing the work of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress should begin at once, and be strong and unmistakable in its details.

Public sentiment on the question is conceded. The rest is work to bring accomplishment from sentiment. Every merchant, every manufacturer, every mine operator, every farmer, every shipper and receiver affected by freight rates or by freight congestions, every public spirited citizen, in fact, should in writing urge upon his immediate representative the demand in public sentiment for the adoption of a fixed policy of annual appropriations for waterway improvements in sums completely adequate to the great work. The earnestness of the more than 2,000 delegates to the National Rivers and Harbors Congress could be shown in no more effective way than by taking up the matter with their representatives at Washington for the completion of the work in which they so recently took active and effective part. It should be done now.

Alachua county is not the only one in the State in which complaint is occasionally heard concerning the condition of the public roads, as witnesseth the following from The Marianna Times-Courier: "Truly, 'It's an ill wind that blows nobody good.' Since our public roads have become so very bad a colored man living three miles east of town has opened up a road through his field and collects ten cents toll from all passing that way. We hear that he makes four and five dollars per day."

The early history of J. T. Trowbridge is as romantic as anything his imagination devised later for the entertainment of his readers, says The Delineator for January. He actually lived on crusts in an attic as he fought to make his way in the world. He wrote for The Dollar Magazine, so called not only because it sold for a dollar a year, but because it paid its writers one dollar a page! It is hardly necessary after this to quote his own statement that he "was hungry at times." He adds cheerily, "no more so, probably, than was good for me, and never for long." It was when he was managing editor of Our Young Folks that he began the work that has made him so well known and loved. After they had published a series of stories for young people, written by Mayne Reid, Mrs. Whitney, Aldrich, and others equally famous, he was suggesting names for a successor in their work. His "chief" looked at him quizzically and observed. "'Why don't you speak for yourself, John?'" So John did, with the result that thousands of young people have adored his books.

Practically every train brings people to this city "to live"—to settle down. Many of these people must find furnished rooms or boarding places. Three out of four of these will find their "ready-made homes" by answering want ads.

S. Forbes Doggett, the oldest native inhabitant of the city of Jacksonville, died Thursday morning at the residence of his nephew, Judge John L. Doggett. He was born in Jacksonville in 1835 on the corner of what is now Forsyth and Liberty streets, and has been a citizen thereof ever since then. His father was the settler and owner of the entire eastern section of Jacksonville. In respect to his memory the circuit court, which is now in session in Jacksonville, adjourned for the day.

William Hogan of Fort McCoy was in Ocala yesterday and said that he was riding in a small boat on the Ocklawaha river the other day and saw an otter swimming under the water, and he plunged in and caught the animal back of the neck and succeeded in putting him in the boat and securely fastening him. When we state that Mr. Hogan is between sixty and seventy years old and that an otter is remarkable for his biting qualities, this may be put down as quite a thrilling event.—Ocala Banner.

Jno. C. Lewis and son, Leck, went out bird hunting west of town Monday afternoon, taking along their dog and Arley Hatch's dog "Dan." They had hunted only a short time when the dogs ran upon a rattlesnake which bit both of them. "Dan" received the first bite squarely on the shoulder, after which the Lewis dog got a glancing lick that produced only a slight scratch. "Dan" died in a few minutes, but the Lewis dog is living. The hunters killed the snake, which was about five feet long.—Punta Gorda Herald.

OLD SORES FED AND KEPT OPEN BY IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD

If Old Sores were due to outside influences, or if the cause was confined entirely to the diseased flesh around the ulcer, then external treatment and simple cleanliness would cure them. But the trouble is in the blood, which has become unhealthy and diseased, and keeps the sore open by continually discharging into it the impurities and poisons with which the circulation is filled. This poisonous condition of the blood may be the remains of some constitutional trouble; the effect of a long spell of sickness, or because the natural refuse of the body, which should pass off through the proper avenues, has been left in the system and absorbed into the blood. Again, the cause may be hereditary; but it does not matter how the poison becomes intrenched in the blood, the fact that the sore will not heal is evidence of a deep underlying cause. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., may cause the place to scab over temporarily, but the blood is not made any purer by such treatment, and soon the old inflammation and discharge will return and the sore be as bad or worse than before. S. S. S. goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, cleanses and purifies the blood, and makes a permanent cure. S. S. S. enriches and freshens the circulation so that instead of discharging unhealthy matter into the place, it carries rich, tissue-building, flesh-healing blood to the diseased parts and in every way assists in a natural cure of the sore. RARE MUSICAL TREAT BY LOCAL TALENT

Entertainment By Kirby Smith Chapter A Great Success.

THE OPERA HOUSE WAS PACKED

Every Seat Occupied and Many Compelled to Stand—Young People Enjoyed Dance After Rendition of Program—Delicious Punch Served.

The most largely attended and enjoyable musical and literary entertainment held in this city for years was the musicale given at the opera house Friday evening under the auspices of Kirby Smith Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, in commemoration of the birthday of General Robert E. Lee.

The opera house was crowded, every seat in both balcony and gallery being occupied, and a score or more people were compelled to stand. It was a good-natured crowd, however, and everything passed off in a most pleasing and enjoyable manner.

The stage was attractively decorated for the occasion, for which the ladies are indebted to L. J. Burkhim. The decorations were simple but handsome, the colors of the U. D. C., flags and a few pot plants being employed in its make-up.

The proceeds of this entertainment will be devoted to the Kirby Smith scholarship at the University, and the Old Soldiers' Home in Jacksonville. Notwithstanding the fact that a small sum—only twenty-five cents—was charged, the venture proved quite a success financially, and all connected with it are perfectly satisfied.

Program.

1. Piano—"The Last Idea of Weber," was skillfully rendered by Miss Alice Thomas.

2. Vocal Duet—"See the Pale Moon," by Miss Zeigler and Miss Lovie Goode, was so highly appreciated that they were compelled to respond to an encore.

3. Song—"Roberto, o tu che adora," was so beautifully and perfectly sang by Mrs. C. E. Dunham that the vast audience would not be satisfied until she responded to the vociferous applause.

4. Piano—"Mazurka Brilliante," by Miss Eddy, was much appreciated.

5. Song—"Tonight," by Gainesville's favorite vocalist, Mrs. W. S. Prindle, was applauded time and again, and was without doubt a favorite of favorites on the program.

6. Recitation—"Kindergarten Pap," by Miss Bowers, took the house by storm, and the young lady was compelled to appear before the footlights a second time.

7. Song—"The Nightingale's Song," was sweetly rendered by Miss Zeigler of Ohio, who is the popular guest of the Misses Goode. She was the recipient of a handsome bouquet of flowers and was so repeatedly encored that she had to respond with a second number.

Part II.

1. Piano—"Valse Lyrique," was rendered in that perfect manner by Miss Clara Pound which has made her one of the most popular performers in the city.

2. Song—"The Rosy Morn," was a sweet song, sang by a sweet, beautiful lady—Miss Lovie Goode—and the continued applause which greeted her both prior to and after its rendition was evidence that she holds a warm place in the hearts of the Gainesville public. She responded to the encore with a beautiful number.

3. Song—"Because I Love You, Dear," was sang by Mr. J. A. Goodwin in that clear, distinct voice which has made him universally popular with Gainesville audiences for so many years. The audience would not be satisfied until he repeated the number.

4. Recitation—"Wouldn't You, Charlie?" was the occasion for Miss Bowers' reappearance, and the applause she received demonstrated that she had pleased the audience greatly

5. Songs—(a) "Love Song," and (b) "Little Blue Pigeon," were rendered by Mrs. C. E. Dunham in a sweet, clear voice, and received much applause; in fact, the lady was compelled to bow her acknowledgment to the encore.

6. Song—"Mona," was beautifully and perfectly rendered by Mrs. W. S. Prindle, and the audience again demonstrated their appreciation of her cultivated voice.

7. Piano—"Good-Night," was rendered by Miss Ida Burkhim with that touch which even the most ignorant of music cannot help but recognize in an accomplished pianist. With the exception of the accompaniment to Mr. Goodwin, which was rendered by Miss Myrtle Fennell, one of the most accomplished and popular musicians of the city, Miss Burkhim was the accompanist of the evening, and her rendition was perfect in each instance.

At the conclusion of the musical program the ladies of Kirby Smith Chapter served delicious fruit punch to all who remained to partake thereof. It was without doubt the finest punch of the kind that could be prepared, and its delicious flavor demonstrated that the chapter made no mistake in placing this feature of the program in the hands of Mrs. A. B. Oliver.

Many young people remained at the opera house and participated in a dance until 12 o'clock.

Kirby Smith Chapter has given many pleasing entertainments, but none more successful from every standpoint than that of Friday night, which was under the direction of Mrs. J. B. Cutler and Miss Myrtle Fennell, who had been delegated to look after the musical features.

CORTELYOU MAY RESIGN.

Vague Rumors of Break Between Secretary and the President.

Washington, Jan. 18.—That Secretary of the Treasury George Bruce Cortelyou will resign from the cabinet at an early day seems assured beyond a reasonable doubt. Postmaster General Meyer will probably succeed him.

Vague rumors of a break between the secretary and the president have been floating around ever since the publication of the announcement that plans were on foot to secure if possible the republican nomination for Cortelyou. The first lieutenant of Secretary Cortelyou in this campaign was understood to be Frank H. Hitchcock, first assistant postmaster general.

Fatal Fire at Scranton, Pa.

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 18.—Two girls were killed and seven others seriously injured in a fire Friday in the building occupied by the Imperial Underwear factory. About two hundred girls were employed in the building and there was a panic when the alarm of fire was sounded. Florence Watrus was caught in the burning building and she met a horrible death in the flames. Marie Buckley, with a number of other girls, jumped from the fire escape, and broke her neck.

EDITOR TARGET FOR BULLETS.

Attacked by New Orleans Police Inspector for Certain Criticisms.

New Orleans, Jan. 18.—Edward S. Whitaker, inspector of police, entered the office of the Morning World here Thursday night and fired two shots at Joseph M. Leveque, the editor. Neither shot took effect.

The shooting followed several attacks upon Whitaker in the editorial and news columns of the World. The head of the New Orleans police department was criticised for "attending the races daily while drawing a salary of $6,000 a year from the people," and was referred to as "a blackguard and a bully."

Whitaker, accompanied by several detectives, entered the editorial rooms of the World shortly after 8 o'clock, and the inspector started for Leveque, who was talking at the time to a young woman reporter. Blows were exchanged and it was then that Whitaker drew a large caliber revolver and fired twice.

Accounts of the shooting vary, but according to eye-witnesses, one of the several reporters who rushed to the editor's aid, struck the police inspector's arm and caused the shots to go wild.

MESSAGE FOUND IN BOTTLE.

Suicide Was Indicated, But It Is Now Thought To Be a Joke.

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 18.—The following message has been found floating in a bottle on the lake at Electric park, a local summer resort:

"Drag the lake for me. I have jumped in. I cannot bear the misfortune that has come to me. J. H. Willoughby., New Orleans, La."

Chief Taylor is seeking information of such a man. He believes it's a joke, but is telegraphing to New Orleans and also Chattanooga and Atlanta to find out. The message was written on the back of an envelope with addresses of the Williams houses in Atlanta and Chattanooga, and St. George hotel, in Jacksonville, Fla.

An Insidious Danger.

One of the worst features of kidney trouble is that it is an insidious disease and before the victim realizes his danger he may have a fatal malady. Take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first sign of trouble, as it corrects irregularities and prevents Bright's disease and diabetes. J. W. McCollum & Co.

BRIEF DISPATCHES.

Another suspected case of yellow fever has been discovered at Santiago. The new case is a Spaniard of three years' residence.

Abraham J. Sidder, of Chicago, who conducts five restaurants in the down town district, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the district court scheduling his liabilities at $234,723 and his assets at $2,515.

James R. Keene has reported to the Jockey Club the death of his famous breed-mare Ben-My-Chree, dam of a number of well known horses, including Cap and Bells, the only American-bred horse that ever won the Oaks of Epsom, England, cup.

Owing to an attack of gout the pope has been reluctantly obliged to suspend his audiences. He was visited Thursday by his private physician, Dr. Petacci, who insisted that the pontiff go to bed, and to this the patient consented.

Archduke Ferdinand, grand duke of Tuscany, is dead. He was the father of Countess Montignoso, formerly the Princess Louise, and the divorced wife of the present King of Saxony, and who last year was married to Signor Tosello, a musician.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Canthrarides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Florida Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Florida readers.

A. Derting, seaman, of 419 L. street, Pensacola, Fla., tells how to do it. He says: "From my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills I can strongly recommend them to anyone in need of a good medicine for the kidneys. Kidney complaint and backache caused me suffering at intervals for years. The first or second attack I did not mind, but as time went by they grew worse and at times laid me up. I could hardly walk and it was a difficult matter to straighten up after stooping; while the kidney secretions were irregular and unnatural. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. From personal experience I know that this remedy can be depended upon to fulfill the representations made for it."

TO FIGHT FOR FORESTS.

Governors of Southern States Asked to Appoint Delegation to Congress.

Atlanta, Jan. 18.—Strong resolutions, calling upon the governors of the Virginias, the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky to appoint delegations from their states to appear in person before the committee on agriculture in congress, to urge a favorable report upon the bill to create a national Appalachian forest preserve, were adopted at the final session of the Appalachian National Forest association Thursday night.

The adoption of these resolutions was the chief object for which this association met, and with this action adjournment was taken with the brilliant attendance present bent on securing the enactment of the measure, which means the conserving of 5,000,000 acres of timber land in the states named.

Prior to the close of the meeting it was announced by Secretary John H. Finney, of this association, for Mrs. J. K. Ottley, one of the most prominent women's club leaders in the south, that the women's clubs of the United States would take this matter up and at once begin an endless bombardment of personal letters upon the congressmen importuning them to secure the enactment of this bill.

New York, Jan. 18.—Mrs. Herbert M. Sears, member of a wealthy Boston family and a guest at the hotel St. Regis, committed suicide Friday by jumping from a thirteen-story window.

Mrs. Sears had been a frequent visitor at the St. Regis for several years. She always came to the hotel accompanied only by a maid and frequently remained there several days. Her actions were described by the hotel people as erratic and the maid always maintained a close watch over her mistress.

INSULTS TO ROYALTY.

Some of the Things That Constitute Leze Majesty in England.

Many people think that leze majesty—giving insult to royalty—is not a crime in Great Britain. The English statute books, however, contain many penalties for such offenses.

Placing a postage stamp on a letter upside down is a punishable offense, as is also the defacement of a coin bearing the royal image. This is insulting the king's effigy.

Private individuals may not raise the royal standard over their dwellings. This is the emblem of the regal authority to be displayed only where the king is present.

While an agitator may talk against royalty in the abstract as much as he chooses, contemptuous or insulting personal references to the reigning sovereign opens the offender to a heavy fine and imprisonment.

The slightest slap upon the face of the king or queen—or any other part of the anatomy, for that matter—is punishable with the death penalty. In the reign of Queen Victoria a Lieutenant Page struck her across the face with his cane. He was sentenced to death, but the queen commuted his sentence.

It is likewise a crime to bring the uniform of the sovereign into contempt. To garb a low comedian or a villain of the stage in a discarded uniform of the army or the navy is sufficient to bring heavy censure from the government. For this reason theatrical managers usually see to it that the uniforms worn are not exactly copies of the real things.

The Sergeant's Tribute.

After the battles of Weissenburg and Worth, which he had won, the crown prince, afterward Emperor Frederick, was sauntering alone one evening past a barn occupied by a party of Wurttemberg troops. Hearing something like a stump oratory going on, the prince opened the door and looked in. Every one rose.

"Oh, sit down! I'm sorry to disturb. I dare say there's room for me to do the same," said the prince. "Pray, who was making a speech?"

All eyes were turned on a sergeant, whose very intelligent countenance looked, however, sorely puzzled when the commander in chief asked:

"And what were you talking about?"

Quickly recovering his presence of mind, the sergeant confessed:

"Well, of course we were talking of our victories, and I was just explaining to these young men how, four years ago, if we had had you to lead us, we would have made short work of those confounded Prussians!"

Not Qualified.

"Did you intend to drown yourself?" asked the magistrate at Marylebone police court when a cab driver was remanded on a charge of attempted suicide.

"No; I cannot swim," replied the man.—London Mail.

A Substitute.

Customer—Will you give me a copy of "The Art of Being Happy at Home?" Librarian—I'm afraid it's out, but I have here a little treatise on jiu jitsu, which makes an excellent substitute for it.—Pele Mele.

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT.

The Most Brilliant Illumination Is Not Always the Best.

A writer in an engineering magazine offers some disconcerting information on the subject of illumination, disconcerting because the reader will probably find that he has been, innocently enough, following a course of procedure there described as injurious. For instance, in the case of eye strain he may have felt that even the dim light by which he worked was too strong, and so turned down the light, thus increasing the difficulty, or, what is more likely to be the case, when the strain has been caused by too brilliant illumination he fancies that what is needed is stronger light and so increases it.

Overstrain from too bright a light is said to manifest itself by an itching sensation in the eyeballs, with the tendency to rub the eyes for relief. The proper course, then, is to see that the light is more perfectly diffused or softened and that it falls in the right direction. After these precautions have been taken it is worth while to try a smaller quantity of light, this trial to continue long enough in time for the eyes to become fully adjusted to the change. The value of illumination is not to be judged by the apparent brightness of the lights when looked at directly—the brighter the light the better—but by the effect on the object to be looked at, and the most desirable effect, so far as the eyes are concerned, is not always produced by the most brilliant lights.—Indianapolis Star.
